Engineered Boards Random Lengths

Thursday, 20 November 2008

The normal random lengths in the industry tend to have a lot of short boards with an average length of 720mm we understand the importance of quality products and have therefore come up with what we think is the answer. The chart below shows what will be in each layer. On the odd occasion this may vary a little but in general terms the sizes below are what you will get in each carton.

Normally with random lengths from other manufacturers you will get only one long board every three or four cartons, with our boards you know what you are getting.

Engineered boards random lengths for all our widths Average length of 900 to 1000

Carton	Length	Remark
Layer 5	400 + 400 + 600 + 800	Only layer 5 will have 3 or 4 nested pieces and they will be any one of one of the following combination of sizes 400 + 500 + 500 + 800 400 + 500 + 600 + 700 700 + 700 + 800 600 + 600 + 1000 600 + 700 + 900 *There would not be more than 3 pieces of any one size per carton
Layer 4	900 + 1300	Could be replaced with 800 + 1400 or 700 + 1500 or 600 + 1600
Layer 3	1000 + 1200	Fixed length
Layer 2	1100 + 1100	Fixed length
Layer 1	400 + 1800	Could be replaced with 500 + 1700

There are several reason for random lengths, in the main they are more stable than long boards. In addition we are very environmentally aware and the more of the tree we can use the happier we are. The main reason, and in our opinion the most important one is that we can use at least 90% to 95% of the tree to manufacture our boards, rather than having a lot of waste and massive knots by having long boards. The final reason is that the cost of random length boards is a lot less than long boards and they look great when they are fitted. We hope this helps in your decision to buy from The Solid Wood Flooring Company.
